RESEARCH ROLE

The Project aims to connect students with academics on a particular research project concerning the areas in which CAP focuses. In this way, academics receive assistance with what are often monumental projects, students gain valuable legal research experience and often a mention in the acknowledgements of the finalised Working Paper, and CAP has content to disseminate to the interested public.

PROJECTS

There are currently two research projects on which academics are currently looking for assistance.

2. Drivers of Corruption - An International Bar Association (IBA) Report - working with Associate Prof. Kath Hall and relevant IBA members.
